INTRODUCTION

Information about homestead claims for Oregon can be found on microfilm rented through the libraries of the Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter Day Saints. These libraries are found in many towns throughout Oregon and the world and welcome all genealogical researchers. It costs about $2.50 to order one roll for 6 weeks. Three microfilm rolls of homestead records are on indefinite loan now at the Astoria LDS Church and are available for anyone to look at just by dropping in during its open library hours.

The following entries came from one item on the L.D.S. microfilm #1630932 of records from the Oregon City District Land Office. I copied down only those entries in which the residence was listed as Clatsop County. It is possible that I have omitted entries or made other transcription errors. If errors are found, please let me know. In some cases the material was summarized. You can look at the microfilm to read the original. Only those entries with a certificate number were "proved-up". Maps showing the homestead and donation land claims, etc. are on microfilm at the Genealogical Forum of Oregon, 1410 S.W. Morrison, Suite 812, Portland, OR 97205. Photocopies of some of the maps can be found there and at the Astoria Public Library and the LDS Church Library at Salt Lake City under the title, Clatsop County, Oregon, Property And Tax Records, Vols. 1-2, by Liisa Penner. The Astoria Public Library also has the Metsker property maps for 1930 and more recent ones. The County Assessor's office also has property ownership maps.

Clatsop County is divided into townships as shown on the following map. Each township is divided into 36 sections, 6 across and 6 down. Section 1 is in the northeast corner and section 36 in the southeast corner.

FEDERAL LAND RECORDS FOR OREGON

These records were kept by officers in the U.S. Government District Land Offices in Oregon. District Land Offices were located at various times in Oregon City, La Grande, The Dalles, Lakeview, Burns, Portland, Vale, Winchester, Roseburg, Linkville (Klamath Falls) and Harney.

The records consist of registers of applications for federal land. Applications were filed under the Oregon Donation Land Law, the Homestead Act, Timber and Stone Act, Timber Culture Law, Desert Land Law and mining laws of the United States. There are also registers for cash sales of federal land, for which the individual paid the standard price of $1.25 per acre ($2.50 if the land was adjacent to a railroad section).

The registers contain names of those persons whose land transactions were cancelled, as well as those who "proved up" and obtained their patents. For those who did satisfy the requirements (for a homestead, to reside continuously on the land for five years, build a dwelling and raise a crop), there are land entry case files at the National Archives, General Branch, Civil Archives Division, Washington D.C. 20408.

[The above comes from the microfilms of homestead records.]

THE HOMESTEAD LAW.

For the benefit of the numerous parties who are now selecting homes in this State, we publish the following condensed statement of the provisions of the United States Homestead law.

Any person who is the head of a family, or twenty-one years of age, and is a citizen of the United States or has declared his intention to become a citizen, as required by the naturalization laws, is entitled to the benefit of the homestead law.

The right of homestead extends to 160 acres of surveyed minimum lands or eighty acres of double minimum.

A party, to obtain title to a homestead, under the provisions of this law, must, after he selects the tract of land he desires to enter, file at the District Land Office an application to enter upon the land and pay the fees and commissions allowed. He must then occupy and cultivate the land for a period of 5 years or within two years thereafter, he must make satisfactory proof at the District Land office of settlement and cultivation and pay the final commission.

Filing the application will hold the land for six months within which time the party must make affidavit "That said application is made for the purpose of actual settlement and cultivation; that said entry is to be made for my own exclusive benefit and not directly or indirectly for the benefit or use of any other persons whomsoever; neither have I perfected or abandoned an entry heretofore made under this act."

The proof of settlement and cultivation required is the affidavit of the party supported by two credible witnesses.

Upon proof satisfactory to them, payment of final commission, the land officers will issue a certificate to the party and make return to the General Land Office. A patent will then issue and the homestead settler becomes owner of the land in fee.

Homesteaders are not liable to debts contracted before the issuing of the patent.

A homestead settler forfeits all title to the land by absence therefrom for more than 6 months at one time during the five years, if the fact of such absence is satisfactorily proven to the land officers.

HOW TO PRE-EMPT LAND.

We herewith give a synopsis of law relative to taking up claims and pre-empting government land, for the guidance of those who come into our midst for that specific purpose and do not know how to proceed. First, strike out, either with your teams, on horse-back, or on foot and look at the country and the vacant land, make the due inquiries of old settlers as you go, and when you find a place that suits you, drive a stake in the ground and claim it as your future home, provided it is not on an indian reservation or is land on which are no salines or mines situated, or is not already claimed. Every person 21 years of age, who is a citizen of the United States or has filed his declaration to become such, can claim and pre-empt 160 acres of government land, upon which he must live, build a dwelling and otherwise improve it; then he must appear before the Register of the land office for the district in which such land lies and pre-empt according to law. Persons who own already 320 acres of land in any state or territory or who have already availed themselves of the right of pre-emption, or who quit or abandon their residence on their own land, to reside on public land, cannot acquire any right of pre-emption and before any person can claim the benefit, thereof, he must make oath, before the Register or Receiver of the land office that he never had the benefit of any right of pre-emption; that he is not the owner of 320 acres of land; that he has not settled on the land about to pre-empt to sell it again on speculation, but in good faith appropriated it for his own exclusive use; that he has not directly or indirectly made any bargain in any way whatsoever with any person by which the title which he might acquire from the United States government should benefit or inure in whole or in part any other person but himself; and if any person swears falsely, he will be indicted by the grand jury for perjury and forfeit all rights or money which he may have paid and all bargains of conveyance which he may have made will be declared null and void.

Persons claiming land not yet proclaimed for sale, must, within three months after settling thereon, make known their claim in writing to the Register of the proper land office, otherwise their claim may be awarded to the next settler.

Persons settling on unsurveyed land must file a declaratory statement within three months from the receipt at the district land office of the approved plat of the township embracing such pre-emption settlement.

When two or more persons settle on the same tract of land, the right of preemption shall be in him who made the first entry. Disputes arising from such causes should be amicably settled by settlers, but if impossible to do so, the land office is the proper place to decide it definitely. It sometimes happens that two or three settlers make improvements upon unsurveyed land and after the lines are drawn they find it on the same legal subdivision. Such settlers can make a joint entry and convey to each other the land so improved by each respective settler.

Settlers on public lands which have been, or may hereafter, be withdrawn from market in consequence of proposed railroads, and who have settled thereon prior to such withdrawal, are entitled to pre-empt at the ordinary minimum to the lands settled by them, but they shall file the proper notice of their claims and make proof and payments as in other cases. Any person claiming land by the virtue of the pre-emption or homestead law, shall have the right to transfer any portion of his pre-emption or homestead for any church, cemetery or school purpose, for the right of railroads across such pre-emption or homestead, and such transfer will not vitiate the right to complete and perfect the title of his pre-emption or homestead.

From Lincoln Library of Essential Information, The Frontier Press Company, 1947:

Homestead Act. The first of a series of acts and amendments, which make up the national homestead law, was passed by Congress in 1862. This act provided that a tract not exceeding 160 acres of unappropriated portions of the public domain should be given to any head of a family who would live on the tract for five years and improve it. The provisions of the law extend also to any person 21 years of age, who is a citizen of the United States or has filed declaration of his intention to become a citizen. Within ten years, 28 million acres were "homesteaded" under this act. Later laws permitted withholding of grants and all unappropriated land was withdrawn from settlement in 1935.

INDEX TO HOMESTEAD ENTRIES

The names of those who resided in Clatsop County have been abstracted from the first two books of homestead entries dating from 1863 to 1883. These books are on microfilm at the Astoria LDS Church available for anyone interested to look up. Other information given in these books is: date of application for the homestead, location by section, township and range, whether proved up or not, and number of certificate. Often date of settlement is given and military service record. More information can be obtained from the National Archives where the original papers are on file. Cash entry books will be abstracted later.

Printed copies of the Clatsop County homestead entry records are available at the Astoria Public Library, the LDS Church at Salt Lake City and are available for sale through the Clatsop County Genealogy Society.

The numbers below refer to the homestead application number. Witnesses and contestants for the property are also listed below. Check the books on microfilm or print to find out if this is the case.

INDEX TO DONATION LAND CLAIMS AND HOMESTEADS BY TOWNSHIP, RANGE AND SECTION 1843-1883

The names below come from the donation land claim application books that the Genealogical Forum of Oregon published and from the homestead application register on microfilm through the LDS Church. Material from the Oregon Provisional land claims book was not included. Those applying early for DLC's often did not have surveyed land and used to mark locations, certain geographic features or trees or stumps and I have not yet been able to incorporate these claims into this listing. The "D" after the application number means that entry is a DLC. The homesteads include all that were applied for, whether proved up or not. Where two homesteaders are listed as having property in the same sections and townships, it is possible that the person applying later succeeded the other to the same property. Periods, instead of commas, have been used to separate sections. The first listing gives Township 6 North, Range 5 West, Section 6. Ernest Sudel made a homestead application for land in sections 4 and 5 in Township 5 North, Range 6 West. It can thus be easily found on many Clatsop County maps.
